An Assignment

The goal is to make a film collector app.

App user should be able to create collection of movies, with additional info about them, as well as making reviews. The app should have an authentication and a possibility to register new users. It should be possible to manage entries and users, so the app will have two different types of users with different permissions.

The DB management role will be admin's responsibility. Admin will be also able to add new entries, such as new films, new actors etc. Admin can also delete such entries, including users and/or their reviews. Admin can grant admin permissions to normal user or take them away.

The normal user will have an opportunity to search for films by different genres, view them and add his/her reviews.
